DEDICATION

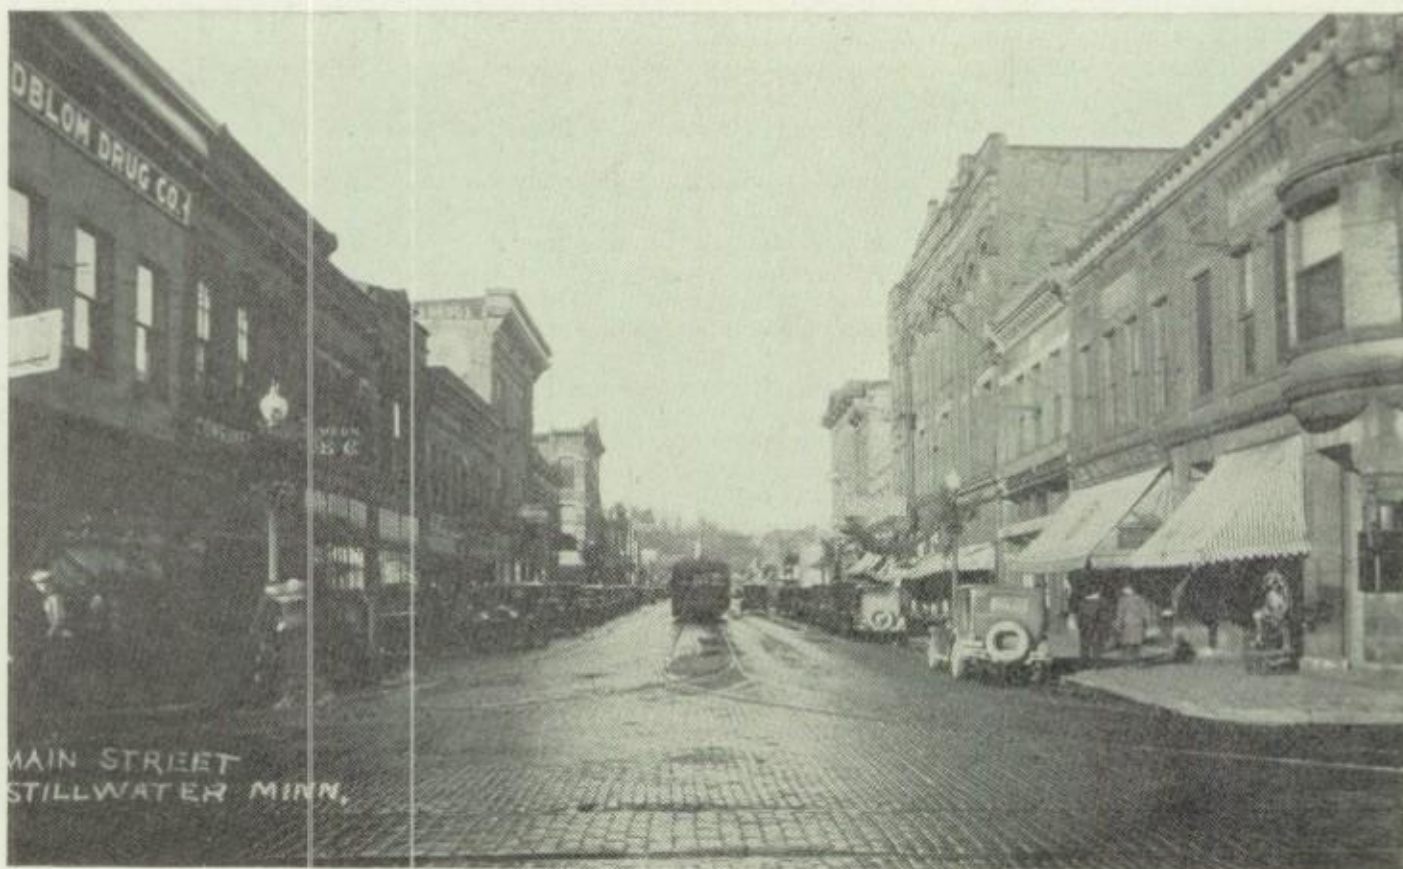

In appreciation of the heights which our city has attained, we do dedicate this Kabekonian of the year 1932, to the Spirit of Progress . . . with the sincere hope that it may live through the years, a monument to those who made that achievement possible.

Old Stillwater

The Stillwater of bygone years was crude and undeveloped. It had few of the improvements which now exist. But it represented the beginning, and it was here in this pioneer town that the foundation for our city of today was laid.

New Stillwater

This is the main street of the Stillwater of today. It is the emblem of a city, modern, moving, progressing. The streets are paved; buildings are new; and the final monument to the efforts of Stillwater's founders is a very pleasing one.

FOREWORD

The Class of 1932 shall soon fade into history . . . even as has the Stillwater that once we knew. But like the Stillwater that has come out of those pioneer days of foundation, we hope the Class of 1932 will go on to peaks which will parallel those attained by this city, here on the banks of the calm St. Croix. We, then, offer this Kabekonian both as a memorial to the progress of our city and the achievements of our class. We have pictured herein the history of our city from its very beginning until its present day of glory. Here, too, we picture the beginning of the Class of 1932 . . . may they finish the story in triumph.

ADMINISTRATION

The High School Today

School Board

Every member of the school board has held his position for many years. Andrew J. Holm is the veteran of the board, having served for about a third of a century. The entire board has served efficiently and well.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Mr. J. D. Bronson

PRESIDENT
of the Board

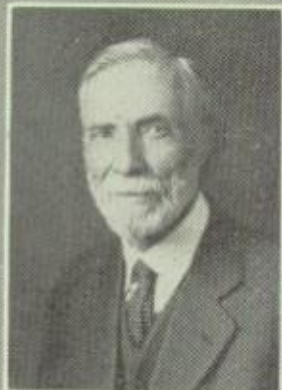

"Know then this truth
(enough for man to know)
Virtue alone is happiness

Mr. A. J. Holm

of the Board

"Grow old along with me
The best is yet to be."

Mr. H. C. Robertson

TREASURER
of the Board

"And frame your mind to mirth
and merriment,
Which bars a thousand harms
and lengthens lives."

Mr. Charles F. Englin

DIRECTOR
of the Board

"Wit, now and then struck

Mr. Guy D. Smith

Kalamazoo College A. B. 1859
University of Chicago A. B. 1900

"The mildest manners with the bravest mind."

Mr. Smith is admired by both parents and students alike. He has supervision over all the schools of the city and has proved himself most efficient in this position. We feel that few cities are as fortunate as Stillwater in their superintendent of schools.

Mr. J. O. Johnson

Principal of the High School

Gustavus Adolphus B. A. 1919
Graduate Work, U. of Minnesota

"Capable of doing things well."

The respect of the entire student body—that is something to be desired. Mr. Johnson has it. Fair play and a "square deal" for all are appreciated by high school students as much as by anyone else. We are more than satisfied with our principal.

The Minnesota state prison at Stillwater is a model institution of its kind for the entire country. It is modern and up-to-date in every way. Thousands of people from all parts of the country visit this prison every year. Twine manufacturing and the construction of farm machinery are the chief prison industries. J. J. Sullivan is warden. There are more than twelve hundred inmates.

Lowell Inn

The Lowell Inn replaced the old Sawyer House which for many years was Stillwater's leading hotel. This new, modern building is a very beautiful structure, built on early Colonial lines. Thus Stillwater has the honor of having one of the newest and finest hotels in this section.

An Early Mid-West Hotel

ACTIVITIES

Lowell Inn

Activities

Stillwater is a student self-governing school. It has one of the finest curriculums of activities in the state. These include such things as publication of a school newspaper, annual, and literary magazine; support of debate and declamatory teams; sponsoring of musical organizations such as the band, orchestra, and Glee club. The management of all student affairs is left in the hands of the students themselves, and valuable executive and legislative training is thus secured. All these are in addition, of course, to our splendid program of athletics, both interscholastic and intra-mural.

STUDENT COUNCIL

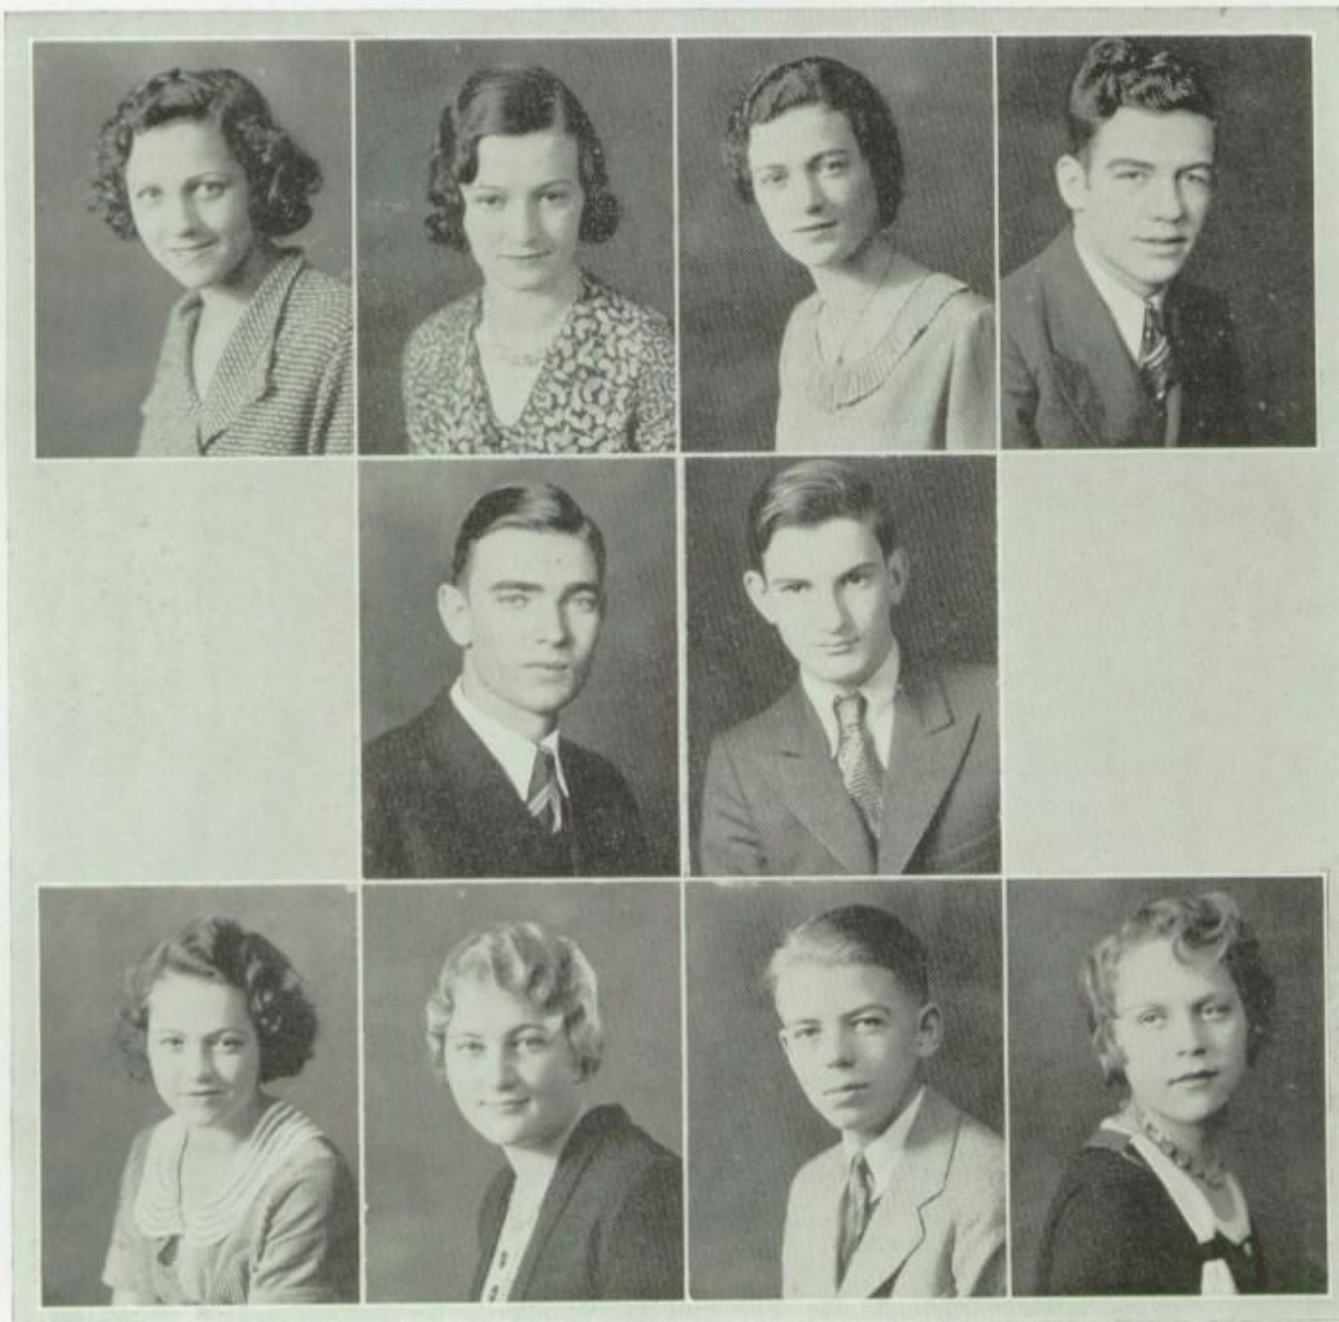

This organization is the legislative group of the school. Unquestionably it is the most powerful body in Stillwater High School's activity. It represents our well-developed plan of student self-government. Every council representative is elective, each being an emissary from his respective advisory group. It is their duty to voice the opinions of those by whom they were chosen. Meetings, presided over by the school president, are held bi-weekly. During its existence over the past decade this group has done much for the advancement of the school. Many other schools throughout the country are now building systems modeled on that developed here.

School President

KAB STAFF

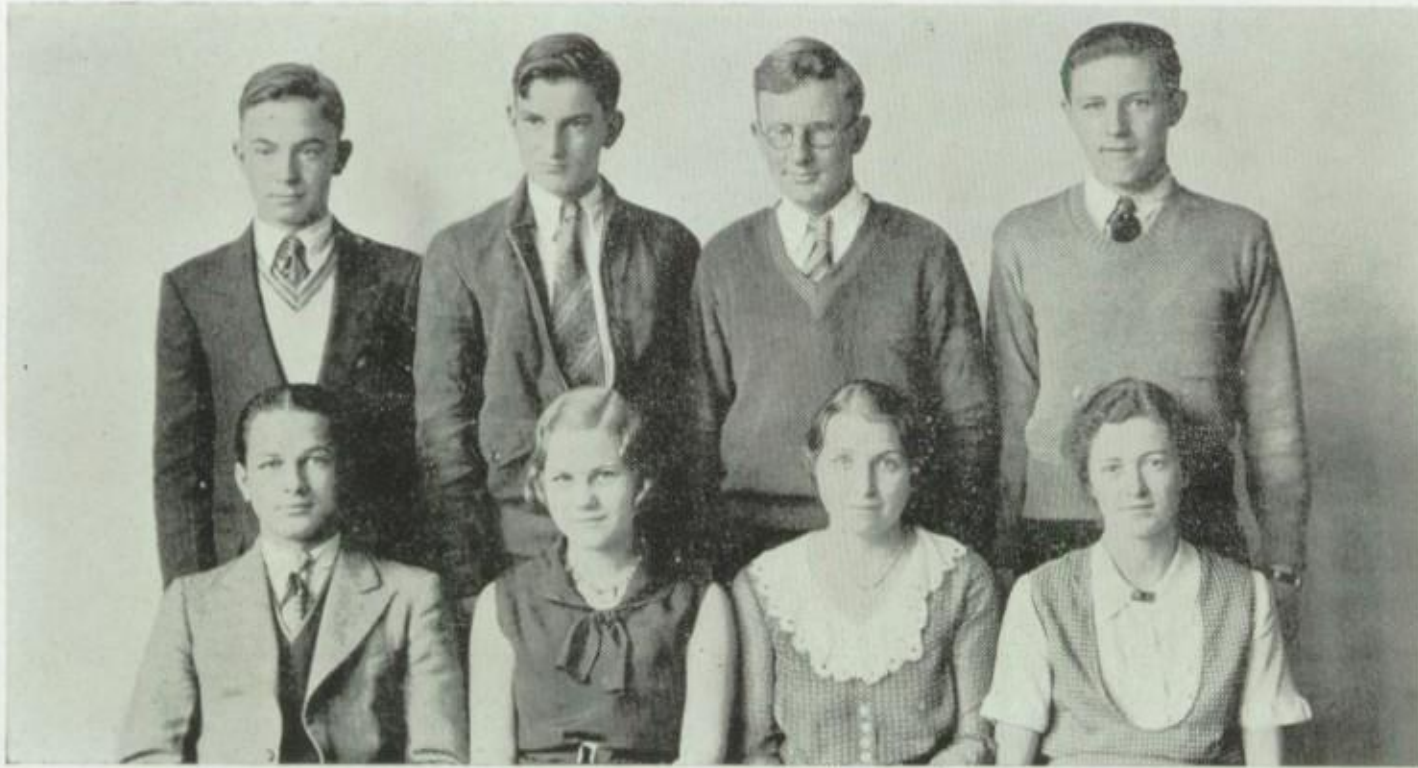

Publishing of the Kabekonian is one of the main undertakings of the school each year. It requires co-operation of the entire senior class, and especially of the staff selected for that purpose. Martin Crowe, as editor, has this year managed make-up of the Kab. Albert Lehmicke, as business manager, has cared for finances. The rest of the staff have worked on their own particular assignments.

ARROW STAFF

Lucille Utecht has published a fine Arrow this past year. All departments have been well taken care of by the assistants in charge. There are few schools of this size in the country that successfully publish a newspaper that can come up to the standard set by the Arrow.

SENIOR COUNCIL

Miss McShane.....Adviser
Albert Lehmicke.....Class President
Marian Williams.....Vice-President
Charles Rinker.....Secretary-Treasurer
Members—Homer Anderson, Catherine Zimmerman, Leighton Charlsen, Fred Sawyer.

This group run the affairs of the Senior class, expressing, of course, the wishes of the class itself. In this last year it had certain very important duties to perform. This work has been efficiently cared for by the Senior Council. The testimony of that is found in the success of the graduating class.

JUNIOR COUNCIL

Miss Helgen.....Adviser
Neoma Jackson.....Class President
Culver Davis.....Vice-President
Gertrude Krueger.....Secretary-Treasurer
Members—Muriel Johnson, Elaine Kundert.

The duty of this group is the same in respect to the Junior class as the Senior Council's duty is to the Seniors. As Juniors the duties are not quite so heavy perhaps, but the management of the class play and the Junior prom. requires excellent ability. The council has proved itself well able to meet all its problems.

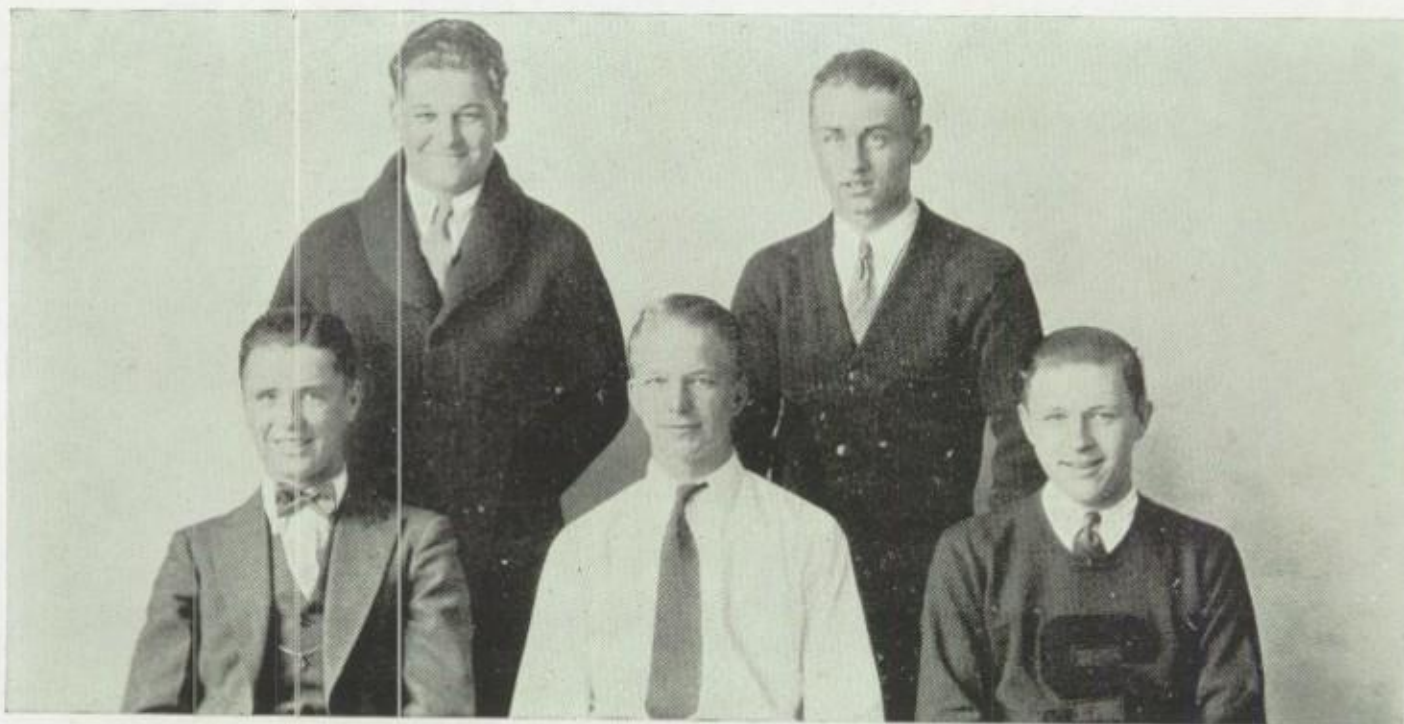

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Fred Sawyer.....President
Members—Thelma Swanson, Katherine Murphy, Georgia Swanson, Martin Crowe, Clinton Grove, Richard Nelson, Lucille Utecht, Catherine Zimmerman, Phoebe Costello, Albert Lehmicke, Marion Williams, Dorothea Flowers, Charles Rinker, Homer Anderson, Annabelle Anderson, Elmer Kempf, Polly Kolliner, Elaine Kundert, Culver Davis, Neoma Jackson.

Our local chapter of this national organization came into existence in 1925. Only sixteen schools in Minnesota are members of this society. Members are chosen by a committee composed of five faculty members. Selections are based on scholarship, character, and leadership. This is probably the most exclusive organization in the school. The Honor Society of today, profiting by example set by their predecessors, have made the present organization a worthy and respected body.

NATIONAL ATHLETIC HONOR SOCIETY

Grove, Kempf, Kunzelman, Lund, Rinker

All members must be scholastically in the upper half of their class and must have made a letter in some sport. This year five boys have met the qualifications. They are: Trygve Lund, Clinton Grove, Charles Rinker, Boyd Kunzelman, and Elmer Kempf. This is a comparatively new organization in this school and is one of the most exclusive groups we have.. Certain it is that with this goal to strive for the increased incentive will lead to increased effort and thus, in the course of time, to increased membership.

FINANCE COMMITTEE

Lehmicke, Kundert, Robertson, Lund

Chairman.....Albert Lehmicke

Members—Elaine Kundert, James Lund, Gretchen Robertson

The function of this committee is of vast importance. They care for all financial matters of the school and their efficient action is necessary to the success of all our undertakings. This committee is composed entirely of student council members and are under the jurisdiction of that body. However, the committee's recommendations and reports are practically always accepted by the council. The committee this year have shown themselves to be well able to care for their important duties.

ASSEMBLY COMMITTEE

Zimmerman, Allemani, Costello, Swanson

Chairman.....Phoebe Costello

Members—Georgia Swanson, Lucille Allemani,
Catherine Zimmerman

Assemblies have been well handled this year. Conduct has been good and programs, as a whole, have been of a high calibre. Stillwater has one of the best assembly periods in the state. Programs are furnished by both home and imported talent and consist of speeches, musical entertainment, and dramatic presentations. The Lyceum programs are outstanding. Assembly is held practically every day with the exception of Wednesday from 10:30 to 11 A. M. If future management keeps up to the standard already set, our assembly success is assured.

HIGH SCHOOL BAND

Hugo Frey, Director

The most colorful musical group of the school is the band. At football and basketball games, and many special occasions it stirs the blood and arouses enthusiasm with the magic of its playing. The band this year has been a very fine one. The number of members showed a substantial increase over the previous year, and the result was a more efficient and capable band. Mr. Frey has done some splendid work in the development of this organization. The band this year were bedecked in new red and black uniforms presented by the senior class. This added much to the color and attraction of this group.

HIGH SCHOOL ORCHESTRA

Miss Sanftenberg, Director

The most active musical organization in the school this year has been the High School Orchestra. It has grown to be a necessary part of our school life to hear the orchestral strains through the halls. Stillwater High can boast of having one of the best High School Orchestras of any school of its size in the state. Through the efforts of Miss Sanftenberg this organization has grown rapidly, each year acquiring new strength and variety. This year's orchestra has a larger membership and a greater variety of instruments than any other in the annals of the school.

DEBATE SQUAD

Anderson, Thorpe, Gilbert, Kundert, Johnson
R. Crowe, Inglebret, M. Crowe, Nelson

Stillwater captured the district championship for the second consecutive year in debate. They were beaten, however, in the regional competition. At this writing, they are preparing to enter the state tournament of the National Forensic League, an event in which they last year carried off first honors. The success of Stillwater in debate during the last two years has been outstanding. It had been quite a number of seasons since Stillwater had been district champion, and thus their two year conquest is certainly a change for the better. The Forensic League championship is the greatest honor Stillwater has ever achieved in this field. Martin Crowe and Richard Nelson were the veterans from last year and they, with Polly Kolliner, comprised the first team. Dorothy Gilbert, Elaine Kundert, Homer Anderson and Vincent Johnson completed the squad. Four of these debaters are juniors so future prospects seem bright.

This musical comedy, splendidly coached and ably enacted was a tremendous success. In many ways it was the most spontaneous and gay of all the Activity Plays of the last decade. The crowd was one of the largest ever to attend this annual event.

TUSITALA

Zimmerman, R. Crowe, Robertson, Thompson

Tusitala Staff:

Editor-in-chief.....Joe Englin
Senior editor.....Catherine Zimmerman
Junior editor.....Robert Crowe
Sophomore editor.....Marion Thompson
Freshman editor.....Gretchen Robertson
Advisor.....Miss Armstrong

Stillwater High School has a literary magazine which, for subject matter at least, can compare with any in the state. The publication of this magazine first started in 1930 with Ethel Haye as editor. Last year the editor was Winifred Roney and this year Joe Englin. All the material included has been written and contributed by students. Much of it shows splendid talent and infinite possibilities. There is no doubt but that the publishing of the Tusitala is as worthy a project as any undertaken by this school. The idea is still, more or less, in its infancy. But already it has shown some splendid results. Future editions may be expected to be even better.

GLEE CLUB

Miss Sanftenberg, Director

"All men were made to love music."

The Glee Club is, and always has been, unquestionably, one of the outstanding musical organizations of the school. It is composed of girls of all the classes and the membership is, every year, large. Certain periods each week are given to the development of this organization. The result has certainly justified the means. Music lovers rejoice in the progress this body has made in recent years. The programs at which they have taken part have certainly been tremendously benefitted by their presence. Stillwater High School is justly proud of her glee club.

SENIOR PLAY—"THE FOUR-FLUSHER"

Sawyer, Lehmicke, Sandeen, Frawley, Ottewell, Charlsen, Anderson
MacDonald, Holmes, Miss Armstrong, Murphy, Buckley, Carroll

Albert Lehmicke.....	Dr. Faraday
Barbara Buckley.....	June Allen
Josephine MacDonald.....	Mrs. Dwight Allen
Dorothy Carroll.....	The Maid
Fred Sawyer.....	Andy Whittaker
Joseph Frawley.....	Mr. Rogers
Homer Anderson.....	Robert Riggs
Searle Sandeen.....	Mr. Gateson
Leighton Charlsen.....	P. J. Hannerton
Owen Ottowell.....	Ira Whittaker
Martha Holmes.....	Evangeline Gay
Katherine Murphy.....	Jerry Dean
Joe Englin.....	Horace Riggs

The Senior Play, entitled "The Four-Flusher" was staged to two nights and was a success both financially and otherwise. The female lead was played by Katherine Murphy and the male lead by Fred Sawyer. The Senior Class displayed a great deal of talent in this play which was under the capable direction of Miss Armstrong.

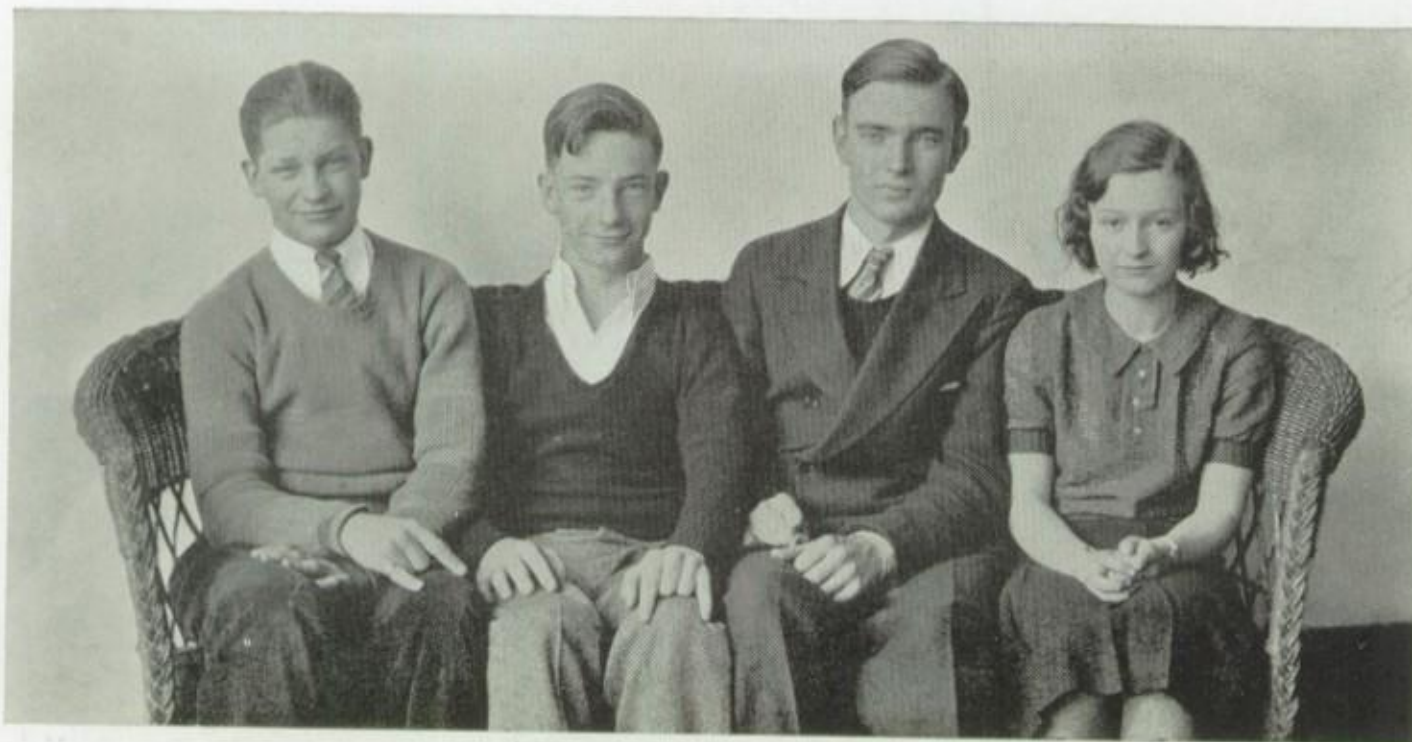

JUNIOR PLAY—"TOMMY"

Anderson, Lehmiche, Kunzelman, Swanson
Kerr, Ottewell, Miss Berglund, Rafferty, McAlpine

The Junior Play was a tremendous success. It was one of the best received presentations in a long time. Robert Kerr and Annabelle Anderson headed a splendid cast. The acting was superb, and Miss Berglund's direction was excellent. It was presented on only one night, but was a fine success financially.

YELL COMMITTEE

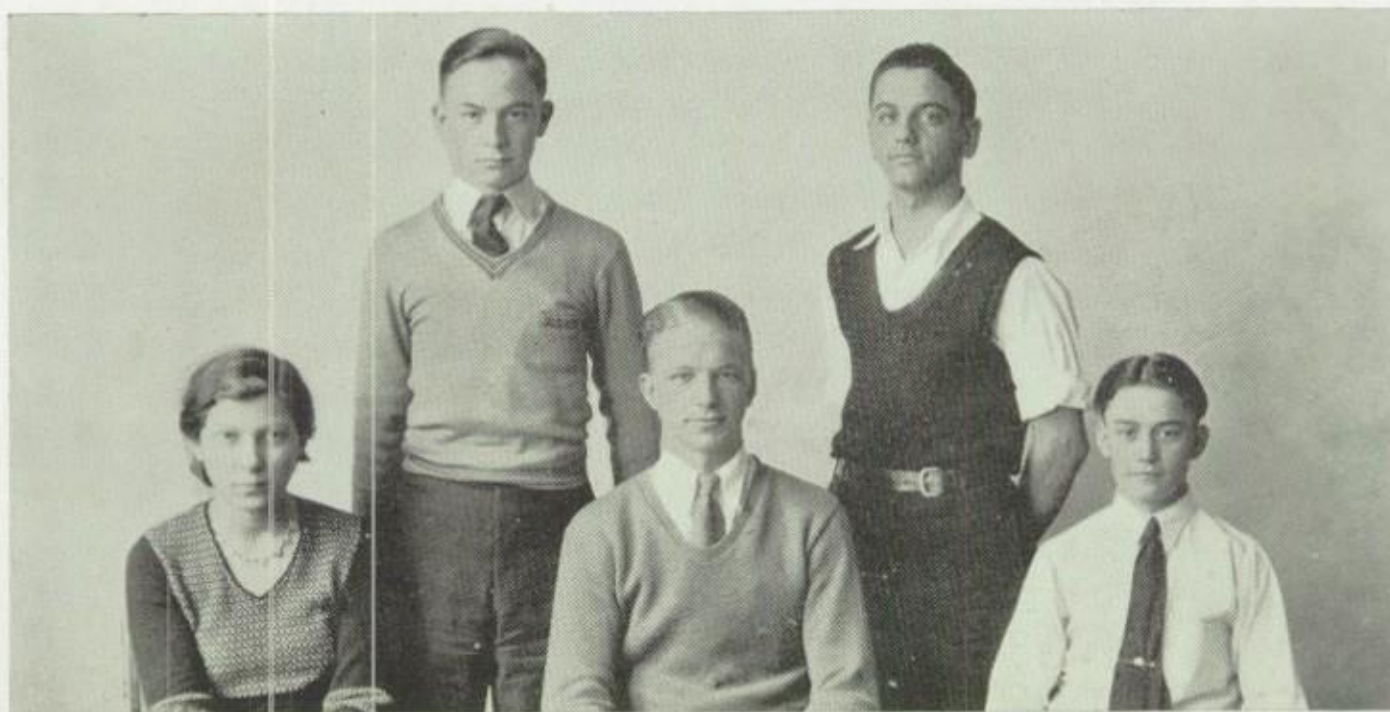

Thorpe, Kolliner, M. Crowe, Anderson

Chairman.....Martin Crowe
Cheer Leaders—William Thorpe, Annabelle
Anderson, Robert Kolliner

This committee cares for yelling at all the games. Mass meetings are held every Friday during football and basketball seasons, at which skits are presented and enthusiasm aroused. Stillwater has always managed to have a worthy organization to care for these duties. Although Bob Kolliner is the only member returning next year, it may be expected that Stillwater will not fall below par in this field.

HALL AND BUILDING COMMITTEE

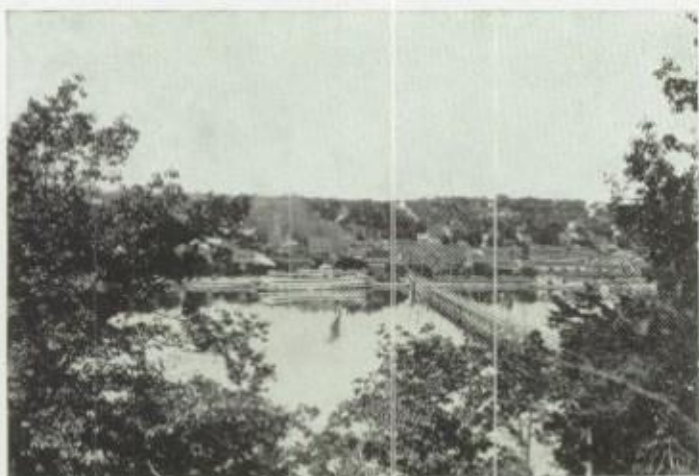

Standing—Anderson, Salmore
Sitting—Gilbert, Lund, Davis

Chairman.....Trygve Lund
Members—Culver Davis, Louis Salmore, Dorothy Gilbert, Homer Anderson

Admittedly, this year's Hall and Building Committee has been the greatest of all time. Never before in school history has hall conduct been so good, and so well managed. Noon hour regulation also has been splendid with gymnasium and auditorium behavior splendidly controlled. These results were achieved largely through an "advertising campaign" conducted last fall, in which the students were "sold" on good conduct. The unique methods and outstanding accomplishment of this year's committee should be an inspiration and example for future organizations.

NEW BRIDGE

The new Inter-State bridge is one of the finest in the Northwest. Constructed in the spring and summer of 1931, it was dedicated and opened to traffic last July. It replaces the old wooden structure which had existed from early pioneer days. This mighty bridge binds closer the two states, Minnesota and Wisconsin, and opens a broad new avenue of travel to tourists.

The Old Bridge

ORGANIZATIONS

The New Bridge

ORGANIZATIONS

Stillwater High School has a splendidly developed system of clubs and organizations. All must apply to the student council for a charter before they may come into existence. These clubs represent a wide variety of fields and activities and are all under the advisory counsel of some faculty member.

HI-Y SERVICE CLUB

President.....Albert Lehmicke
 Vice-President.....Richard Farmer
 Secretary.....Leighton Charlson
 Treasurer.....Clinton Grove
 Adviser.....Mr. Kuhlman

The Fathers and Sons banquet is the chief event sponsored by this club every year. This year the banquet was the greatest held with approximately one hundred and forty persons attending. A great delegation was also sent to the state conference for older boys at Winona. In short, this year's Hi-Y club profiting by the example of their predecessors accomplished more than ever before. The opportunity for next year's organization is very broad. For next year an advisory board has ben elected consisting of Mr. J. O. Johnson, Mr. Leonard Meffert, Mr. Ed Boyle, Mr. Charles Engliin, and Rev. Jackson Smith. This is a new experiment and should prove most successful. Culver Davis will be president next year.

SCIENCE CLUB

President.....Homer Anderson
 Vice-President.....Barbara Buckley
 Secretary-Treasurer.....Mary June Haines
 AdvisorsMiss Moen, Mr. Jansen

This club is for all students taking any sort of science. It has the largest membership of any organization in the school. Meetings are held monthly at which programs consisting of lectures, demonstrations, or movies are given. The outstanding program this year brought a Mr. Lofgren of the Byrd expedition with the official moving pictures of that memorable Antarctic trip. Each year this club has been doing greater things. The future should see many more splendid examples of this, in an age when science is of such extremely vast importance.

THESPIAN CLUB

President.....Albert Lehmicke
Secretary.....Georgia Swanson
Treasurer.....Annabelle Anderson
Advisor.....Miss Armstrong

The Thespian Club, which consists of about twenty-five active members, was organized in 1929. Because it is a national club, it has certain qualifications for membership. Any pupil who has been in three one-act plays, or one three-act play and had seventy five speeches is eligible. Meetings are held every month.

EXECUTIVE CLUB

Advisor—Mr. Johnson

This organization has a different membership each year as only those holding certain offices are eligible. These offices include any of the class positions, presidency of clubs, and school presidency. The school president presides at meetings. The purpose of the club is the study and adaptation of parliamentary law. This idea was introduced by our principal two years ago, and has certainly added to the efficiency of our various school executives. As realization comes of the real value of parliamentary law, it may be expected that the importance of this club will be duly emphasized.

"S" CLUB

President.....Dick Farmer
Vice-President.....Clint Grove
Secretary.....Charles Rinker
Treasurer.....Louis Salmore

This is an entirely new organization in Stillwater High School. It is made up of all those who have made letters in football, basketball, and track. In many ways this promises to become the outstanding club of the school. Certainly it is one of the most interesting. During the past year it did splendid work in sponsoring intramural athletics. In this way it has been a most welcome addition to the school. It is expected that the progress made by this club in its worthy undertaking will, in the future, be rapid and complete.

MATH CLUB

President.....Fred Sawyer
 Vice-President.....Robert Madsen
 Secretary-Treasurer.....Thelma Swanson
 Sergeant-at-Arms.....Elmer Kempf
 Adviser.....Miss McShane

Meetings are held monthly. Programs feature these meetings and are primarily of a mathematical nature. The purpose of the club is to further knowledge and stimulate interest in mathematics.

The name "Alpha Gamma Tau" comes from three Greek words:

"Alpha" for A, signifying algebra.

"Gamma" for G, signifying geometry.

"Tau" for T, signifying trigonometry.

This club has made tremendous advancement both in membership and worth of activity since it was founded several years ago. Prospects for future progress are exceedingly bright.

TALENT CLUB

President.....Lucille Utecht
 Vice-President.....Fred Sawyer
 Secretary.....Kathryn Rafferty
 Treasurer.....Katherine Murphy
 Adviser.....Miss Berglund

Meetings are held monthly and programs given for entertainment and the exploitation of any hidden talent that may exist. The purpose is the discovering and developing of any capabilities in certain fields which students may have. This includes musical, dramatic, declamatory, dancing and other sorts of talent. Miss Berglund has done well in this development. Formerly restricted to juniors and seniors, the Talent Club was this year opened to all classes. Thus the advancement in membership has paralleled that in achievement.

LATIN CLUB

Consuls.....Lucille Utecht, Polly Kolliner
Quaestor.....Homer Anderson
Aedile.....Annabelle Anderson
Adviser.....Miss Tourtellot

This club, founded a few years ago by our present Latin instructor, has done much to spread knowledge of the field for which it is intended. Meetings are held monthly, at which programs of a Roman or Latin nature are given. All officers have ancient Roman titles and all activity is conducted according to Roman methods. Certainly this club is unique, and each year its value to Latin students becomes increasingly apparent.

CHEMISTRY CLUB

President.....Richard Nelson
Vice President.....Homer Anderson
Secretary-Treasurer.....Albert Johnston
Advisor.....Mr. Kuhlman

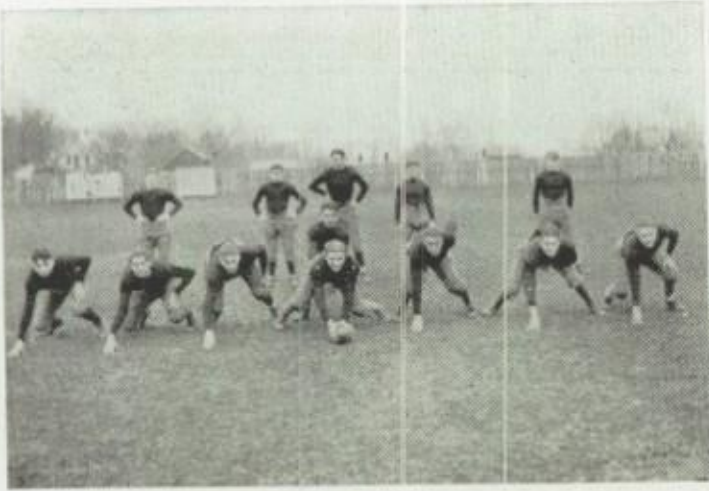

The Chemistry Club is in its first year of existence. The meetings are held twice a month, and have been featured by lectures by college chemistry professors. The Chemistry Club has been a great help in arousing interest in advanced studies among chemistry students.

COMMERCIAL CLUB

President.....Catherine Zimmerman
Vice-President.....Grace Kalk
Secretary.....Norma Anderson
Treasurer.....Margaret Guse
Advisers..Miss Corneia, Miss Wendt, Miss Otos

This club is for all business students. Meetings are held monthly. The large membership accounts for the success of the club's undertakings, especially in its own field.

FOOTBALL

Top Row—left to right—Kunzelman, Farmer, Rinker, Kempf, T. Lund, Kerr, Frederickson, Crowe.

The season of 1931 was a splendid one for the Stillwater football team. In only one game were they outplayed. That was at Northfield when they fell before the Raiders by a score of 7-0. Northfield, however, had what was probably the greatest team in the state. In fact, there were but a few teams who even gave them a good battle. Stillwater playing that game without the services of the great Farmer except for kicking purposes, was glorious even in defeat.

We also lost to White Bear by one point, on a muddy field. However, we completely outplayed the Bears, and except for one dazzling sixty yard run, they never threatened. It was a great game with a dramatic finish as we were stopped time and time again right at the White Bear goal. Our costly fumbles brought us defeat in that game.

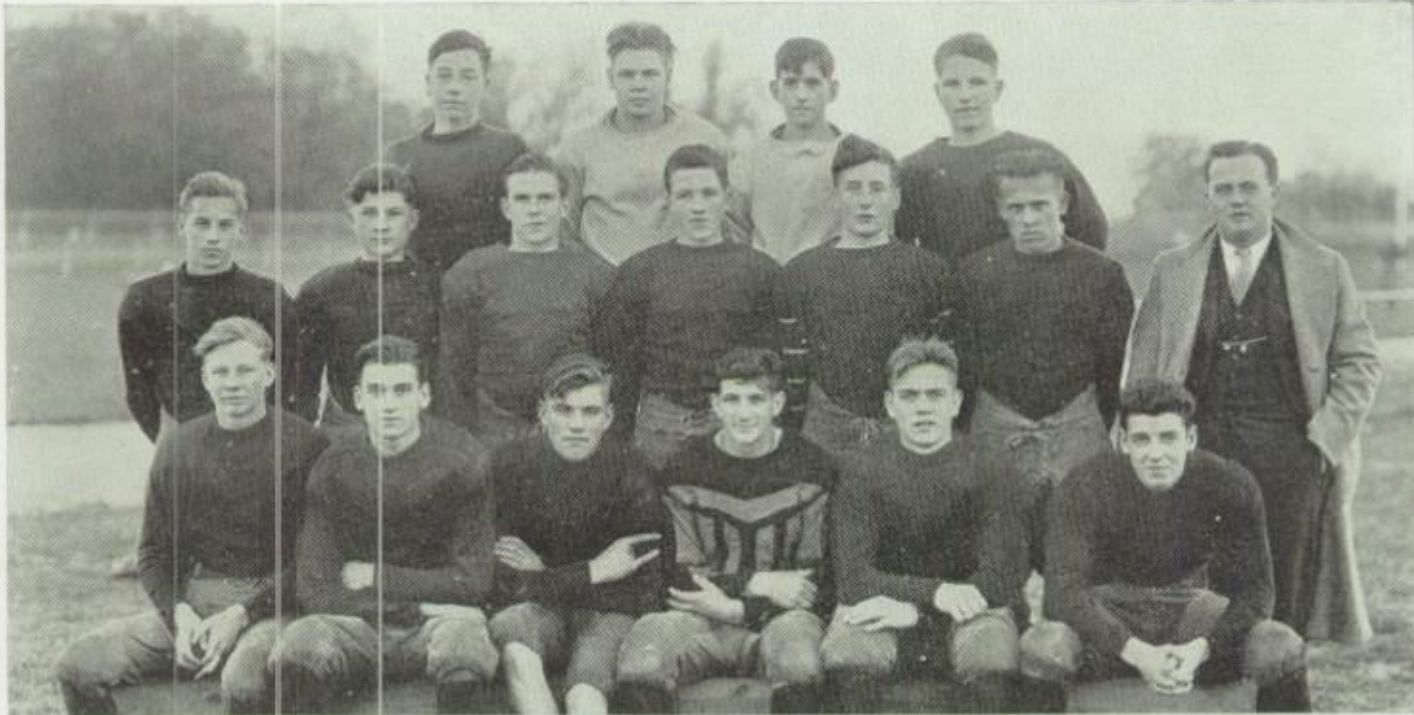

A surprise, was our utter rout of Red Wing. It was one of the few times in history that we have so completely overwhelmed the down state eleven. They never had a chance in this game.

We also gave South St. Paul and Somerset their only defeats of the season. All in all, we played some real football last year.

Dick Farmer was probably the greatest backfield man that Stillwater ever produced. He was about the best punter in the state; a terrific line plunger; a splendid passer; a great defensive back; a brilliant open field runner. Although weighing one hundred and ninety pounds he is an eleven seconds man for the hundred yards, being by far the fastest man on the team. It will probably be a good many years before this section will see another such football star as Farmer.

Captain Salmore was a clever field general, a sensational broken field runner, and a good passer. Bob Kerr, although hurt badly in mid-season, gave a splendid account of himself as a line bucker and defensive back up till that time. Jim Kent was at his best on off tackle spinner plays. Elmer Kempf was a splendid blocking back.

FOOTBALL—SECOND TEAM

Bottom row—Carlson, Englin, McClear, Pozzini, Mielke, McAlpine.

Boyd Kunzelman at end was a good man down under punts. Harold Peterson was a sensational pass receiver. Trig Lund was the best defensive end.

At tackles, Harold Orff, George Buckley, Leonard Berglund, and Burnell Thompson were good defensive players.

At guard, Clint Grove was the outstanding lineman. In fact, he was one of the best guards in this section. He was strong both offensively and defensively. Stan Larsen, the other guard, was a splendid defensive player. Alton Elmquist was an able understudy. At center, the regular Chuck Rinker was strong offensively. Jim Lund was a fine substitute especially on defense.

The returning lettermen next year are Kent, Kempf, Peterson, Orff, Buckley, Larsen, Elmquist, and Jim Lund. Some good prospects are coming up.

There will be many large holes to fill next year, but the new strength may be sufficient. At present prospects are good for a fine defensive team, while the offensive outlook is just a bit doubtful.

INTERCLASS SPORTS

HOCKEY

The hockey season was cut short by unfavorable weather. However, three games were played, and the sophomores were declared champions with a perfect record. They had three wins and no losses. They presented a particularly strong defensive team.

The seniors finished second, with the favored juniors third, and the freshies last.

Some bright stars flashed on the ice this year for almost every team.

BASKETBALL

In a great upheaval of the dope bucket, the freshmen triumphed in interclass basketball. In the first round they eliminated the sophomores while the juniors were drubbing the seniors. Then in the finals, although outclassed as to height and smoothness, they came through with a startling and decisive victory.

This is the first time in about twenty years that the freshmen have won the interclass basketball championship, and it certainly bodes ill for Stillwater's inter-school opponents in years to come.

KITTENBALL

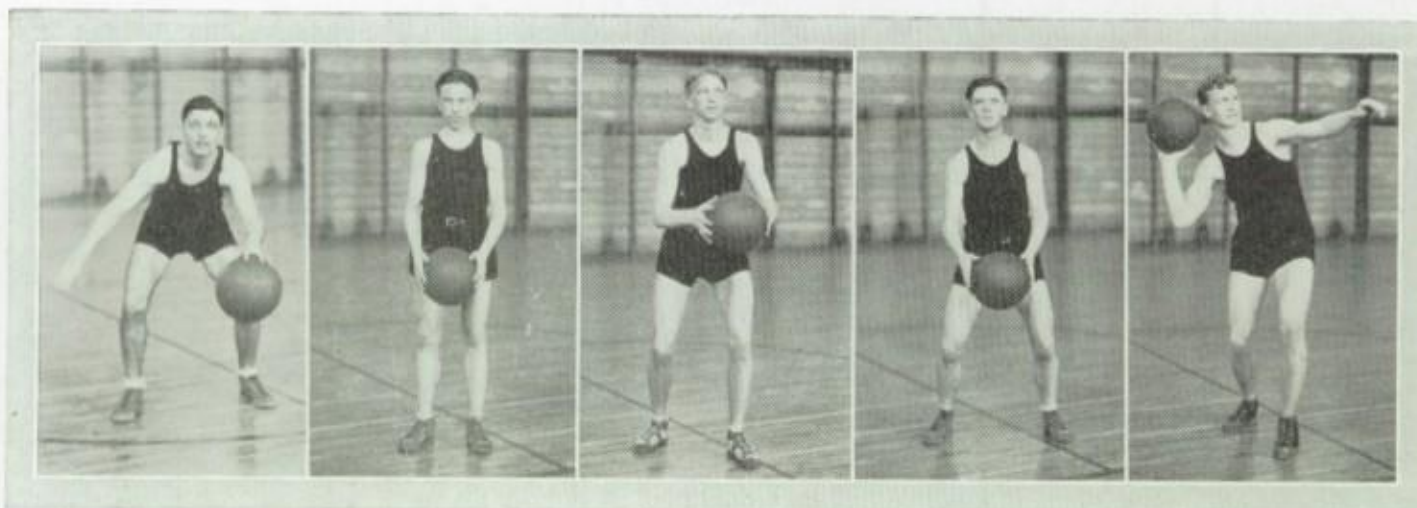

At this writing the seniors are preparing to defend their title. They have the most terrific batting power of any class and with their newly developed pitcher, Lloyd Ebne, they should repeat.

Interclass sport as a whole this year was most successful because of the great interest shown and the decided variation in champions.

Girls' interclass competition was very well handled and enthusiastically received also.

The favorable attitude toward intra-mural athletics was certainly emphasized in the competition this year.

BASKETBALL

Salmore

Wolf

T. Lund

Kunzelman

Farmer

Coach Meffert

Stillwater did not reach the state tournament in basketball this year. They should have—they had the team for it. They were one of the best coached, smoothest, tallest teams that our school has ever produced. Yet they were eliminated in the very first game of the subdistrict tournament. Things like that can't be explained. Call it hard luck; call it staleness; call it overconfidence; call it what you will, but above all call this year's basketball team a fine one. They were. Stillwater will not soon forget them. They lacked a certain necessary spark. If it were not for that, who knows what might have happened.

Louis Salmore was the outstanding performer. He was one of the fastest, most deceptive men that Stillwater ever knew. And he was a fighter from the word "go."

Dick Farmer was a great center—when he was playing his game. He had his "off" nights. But when he was "on," no team could stop him. He "got the jump" on every center he opposed. He was the greatest one-handed shot we ever had.

Trig Lund, a six foot-two forward, was a splendid shot. He could have been a bit faster, perhaps, but few tall men are that. Under the basket, Trig was one of the best men in the region.

BASKETBALL

Kerr

Eichten

Kempf

Peterson

R. Crowe

Boyd Kunzelman was the best free throw artist we ever saw. Teaming with Salmore at guard, he made up what he lacked in size and speed by his deadly shooting.

Bob Kerr was the gamest fellow on the squad. He was injured for a great part of the season, but when he was in the game, he was one grand old fighter. Incidentally, he was in many ways the best defensive player on the squad—and one of the smartest.

Harold Peterson, the only regular who returns next year, was the high scorer of the team. He was a bit slow and a bit erratic. Yet we forecast that next year he will outclass all opposition. We may be wrong—but we're not.

Wolf, Kempf, and Eichten were the other lettermen. All were hard workers. Wolf is a great dribbler; Kempf a dandy floor man; and Eichten a splendid shot. Wolf and Kempf return next year.

Crowe, Kellogg, Kent, Thompson and others all showed well, although none of them made letters. In fact, they all did so well that although only one regular returns we predict that next year's team will be one of the greatest in all Stillwater history.

Opposition observers remind us that we can very easily be wrong. True, but so can the opposition.

STILLWATER—PAST AND PRESENT

Early Day Rafting Scene

Out of the thousands of acres of unbroken virgin forest that was once the St. Croix valley became a might industry—lumbering. Perhaps in all history there has never been any activity to compare with it for romance, adventure, and infinitely progressive results.

When those pioneers flocked to the middle west to seek the hidden fold that lurked in great, green forests, they founded certain small towns that were to serve as a base of operations in this vast new territory. Thus it was that Stillwater came into existence.

Within a few years this town was prosperous and rapidly growing. It had become the lumber capital of the new world.

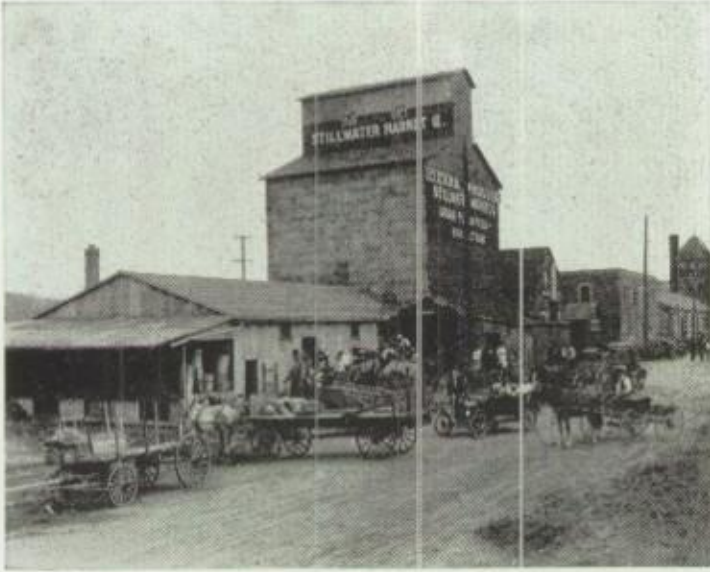

Probably never has there been more feverish activity in this part of the country than was seen every day at the famous boom about five miles above Stillwater. The number of logs that were floated down the river during that period is almost unbelievable. In fact, it has been estimated that if all those logs were loaded in railroad box cars and laid end to end they would stretch entirely across the nation twenty-five times.

But those days passed with the forests and Stillwater is no longer a logging town. In fact, the last reminder of lumber milling is found in the Andersen Yards at Bayport.

Early Day Logging Scene

Stillwater Market Years Ago

Our city fostered in green forests and nourished in the hearts of a glorious people has gone on to new and greater heights.

Today we are a manufacturing and retailing center. We have a flour mill, a shoe factory, clothing factories, a plant manufacturing steel products, a box factory, and countless retail establishments. Besides all this, we have the great industry engaged in by the state prison with its huge output of twine and farm machinery.

However, our change has not come about in industry alone. Today we have Lowell Park to add beauty to our city; we have beautiful new, modern hotels; we have paved streets; we have a great new athletic field; we have a splendid new bathing beach; we have fine buildings throughout the town. Stillwater is now in its glory. It is a city of beauty and activity. Tourists throughout the country are delighted at its hospitality. And they are amazed at the wonderful new bridge opening up to all traffic the broad fields of the East.

But our town has not yet reached its goal. It will go further and further until some day, perhaps, Stillwater shall not be noted only for beauty and hospitality—but for size and power. That would all be wonderful, of course, but somehow, I hope it never happens.

A Suggestion

When you're shopping for some special piece of furniture, it isn't how low the price but what you get for your dollars that counts in these days of sales. You are invited to the Stillwater Upholstery shop, where one may choose his covering, a variety of rich imported tapestries, mohairs plain or figured.

The Span of Life

The span of life is 80 years, 20 are spent in childhood and youth, 20 are spent in old age, 30 more pass away in sleep, 10 full active years are all that remain to accomplish your life's work.

But the dollar that you put away at 20 works throughout the other 60 years.

Young People Often Decide

FREQUENTLY the burden of making funeral arrangements—for relatives, neighbors or friends—rests on the capable shoulders of young men and women. Even though such need may not arise for many years, we suggest that you learn all the newest features of mortuary procedure by a visit to our public Advisory Department. All the mystery about costs, and steps to take in an emergency, is cleared up by a tactful attendant. Or, if you cannot call in person, send for a free copy of the informative booklet, "Looking Ahead."
